WINES WITH PERSONALITY

2005 Burgundy Vintage Report

Widely hailed as exceptional for both red and white wines, the 2005 vintage saw near perfect growing conditions that produced healthy, fully developed grapes.

A long cold winter ensured that bugs were killed off in the vineyard. A wetter-than-average spring followed, helping to top up the water table, ready for the long hot summer that followed, creating small fully-developed grapes with good concentration and thicker-than-average skins. The whites are rich and aromatic with great finesse, whilst the reds are powerful and elegant exuding intense fruit and spice aromas. A vintage with great balance and superb ageing potential.
