WINES WITH PERSONALITY

2008 Margaret River Vintage Report

The season started early but cooler weather in early March slowed ripening, allowing some time for tannin development.

The whites look great; beautiful natural acidity, slightly riper fruit characters with some low tonnages thanks to a little spring hail.

In the reds, the Tempranillo and Grenache are possibly the best McHenry Hohnen have made yet and across the board all are showing excellent structure with great varietal fruit character.

Harvest finished on the 14th April, with yields looking above average. All in all, pretty happy.
